The Homeopathic Pharmacopoeia Convention of the United States defines nosodes as "homeopathic attenuations of: pathological organs or tissues; causative agents such as bacteria, fungi, ova, parasites, virus particles, and yeast; disease products; excretions or secretions." Isopathic remedies share a close relationship with nosodes, however, they emphasize substances taken and potentized from the patient's surround such as environmental toxins, metals, imponderables, etc. Detoxifiers presented in this section are a combination of classical homeopathic preparations in a 60 mL cobalt blue bottle (protects the remedy) which may include nosodes, isodes, sarcodes and potentized botanicals all designed to differentiate, constellate and amplify the keynote focus of the remedy. All ingredients are made from mother tinctures, hand diluted as per Hahnemann and hand succussed. Many are in multiple potencies known as homaccords to provide for the processes and patterns of homeopathic ascendancy. Potentized Mesenchyme 6X, 9X, 6C and ATP 5X are included to assist in homeopathic ECM drainage and homeopathic empowerment.

The great ancient Greek physician Parmenides, in 500 BC, was reported to have said and others agreed "Give me the means to induce a fever and I will cure any disease"

Inflammation, from the Latin inflamatio (to set on fire), is the complex biological response of vascular tissues to harmful stimuli, including physical trauma, chemical toxins, pathogens, etc. It is a protective strategy by the organism to remove the injurious stimuli, as well as initiate the healing process for the tissue.

Hormesis, a conventional medical term similar to the homeopathic medical action of nosodes (low dose), describes the process whereby "upregulated heat shock proteins" are generated to highlight rigid signals, thereby mobilizing the immune system to identify and remove toxic elements. Micro-inflammatory processes are responsible for the transformation of a rigid signal into an alert signal.

In the absence of inflammation, wounds and infections would never heal and the progressive destruction of the tissue would compromise the survival of the organism.

Homotoxicology and BioToxicosis describe the inflammatory process as a healing strategy designed primarily to create symptoms necessary for excretion and elimination and for the identification of threatening xenobiotics. Dr. Rheinbold Voll gave us the gift of the indicator drop in Electrodermal/EAV screening to assist in the determination of the direction and capacity of the degree of immune and inflammatory integrity.

Inflammation can be classified as either acute or chronic.

Acute inflammation is the initial response of the body to harmful stimuli and is achieved by the increased movement of plasma and leukocytes from the blood into the injured tissues.

A cascade of biochemical events propagates and matures the inflammatory response, involving the local vascular system, the immune system and various cells within the injured tissue.

Prolonged (or chronic) inflammation, leads to a progressive shift in the type of cells which are present at the site of inflammation and is characterized by simultaneous destruction and healing of the tissue from the inflammatory process. Hay fever, atherosclerosis and rheumatoid Arthritis are examples of inflammation that have gone unchecked by the body.

Abnormalities associated with inflammation comprise a large, seemingly unrelated, group of disorders which underlie a variety of human concerns:

1. The immune system is often involved with inflammatory disorders, as seen in both allergic reactions and some myopathies. Many immune system disorders result in abnormal inflammation.
2. Cancer, atherosclerosis and ischaemic heart disease are examples of non-immune diseases thought to stem from inflammatory processes.
