Lymphatic Endocrine Support & Repair

In Greek, the term 'Sarcodes' means fleshy. Sarcodes imply protoplasm of animals, as distinguished from vegetable protoplasm. In homeopathy, some of the Sarcodes are proved medicines. They are obtained from healthy endocrine or ductless glands, or from normal secretions of living human organs and lower animals. The secretions are mostly hormones. As such, they are gainfully employed as homeopathic support and correction of the indicated substance through the provision of the correct oscillatory signature of what a healthy, well functioning gland or secretion should be. A strategic blend of X and CH potencies are present in the 60 mL cobalt blue bottle (protects the remedy) for this purpose, as are accompanying "classical homeopathic" remedies.

Note the addition of flower essences in some remedies, appropriate to the targeted gland, organ or system.

The idea of organotherapy was first introduced by Constantine Hering, M.D., the father of American Homeopathy, in 1834. This research has been continued now by prominent European, North and South American physicians and practitioners.

There are three proposed ways in which organotherapy is believed to work:

1. It has a direct effect on stimulating the function of the organ by enhancing the selection of enzymes and specific nucleic acids lacking in the organ.
2. The administration of the homeopathic preparation of organ tissue overwhelms the body with organ antigen, in effect stopping the production of anti-organ antibodies.
3. The organotherapy remedy may provide antigen to substitute for damaged tissue antigen.

We use low potentization botanicals, tissue salts and 6CH sarcodes, which are at the perfect homeopathic balance point between encouragement and regulation. (Typically 4CH and 5CH homeopathic potencies are used for stimulatory effects; 7CH is used for regulating the organ or tissue and 9CH as inhibitory).

Attempting to detoxify a weak or low functioning organ without first providing repair and nourishment will have detrimental effects, both physically and energetically, and may, in fact, push the organ deeper into failure.

The lymphatic system is an integral part of the immune system. It is also intimately linked to the endocrine system via the thymus gland, the last gland to receive the lymphatic fluids before they are filtered back into the blood stream.

Imbalances in the endocrine system can place pressure on the thymus gland, obstructing the flow of lymphatic fluid and consequently leading to the weakening of the immune system.

Lympho Code is an elegantly crafted homeopathic remedy which is designed specifically to repair the lymphatic system and more specifically, the endocrine lymphatic system drainage pathways.

This eclectic formula replete with immune-supportive homeopathic sarcodes, Spagyric botanicals and minerals to provide complementary elements to accentuate endocrine lymphatic regulation, repair and restoration.

The presence of the seven endocrine gland sarcodes at 3X and 6CH, including Hypothalamus 6CH allows for gentle inspiration and regulation of the endocrine pathways.

Lympho Code is well employed particularly when the lymphatic system is compromised, stuck and congested during the healing process. Lympho Code along with supportive Spagyric Intrinsic Botanicals eg Trifolo Intrinsic, Cilantro Intrinsic etc., may be the solution to re-igniting a blocked drainage pathway.
